St. James's Place UK Equity Life

Data as of 29 January 2010

Investment Objective

Aims to maximise total return comprising both capital appreciation and income through investment in a widely spread portfolio of UK equities.

Fund Commentary at 31 December 2009

The final quarter saw UK equities move higher, ending the period only marginally below their highest levels for the year. While corporate profits were generally ahead of expectations, third quarter GDP growth remained negative despite widespread hopes that the economy may have emerged from recession. We believe that some areas of the market will be vulnerable to disappointments given the scale of the earnings growth already factored into prices. However, this contrasts sharply with our expectations for the fund, which is dominated by businesses with resilient and recurring earnings and the prospect of sustainable dividend growth. These qualities have been largely overlooked in the last 12 months and this has left these companies among the cheapest in the market in our view. We are very positive about the portfolio's prospects in 2010 as many of the largest positions are in companies that are well placed to maintain positive earnings growth, which should see them regain the premium to the market that they have historically enjoyed.
