

Portfolio objective

The Adventurous Portfolio seeks to provide higher levels of capital growth through investing in developed and emerging market stocks and shares. The Portfolio is invested across a number of actively managed funds and aims to avoid concentration in any single economy or market. By seeking higher returns over the long term, the Portfolio value may be subject to sharp fluctuations in the short term.

Cumulative Portfolio performance (Unit Trust/ISA - 30 June 2020 to 30 September 2025)

Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

Source: FE fundinfo/St. James's Place. Data to 30 September 2025. Performance figures shown assume investment into the Portfolio was made on 30 June 2020.

Performance is shown on a bid to bid basis with income reinvested and net of ongoing charges taken through pricing. For the S class fee adjusted account the figures shown throughout this document are a composite of the new primary S class units, from 25 November 2024. Prior to this, L class units were used (R class is used for Global Government Bond), which included costs, such as advice and platform charges, which are not present in the S class. In this adjusted past performance calculation, we have adjusted for 0.775% per annum from actual L-class past performance, up to launch of S class to bring it closer in line with the net calculations of the S class.

The performance shown above is based on that of the underlying funds and reflect our recommended fund allocations over that period. ARC PCI prices are reported monthly.

The Adventurous Portfolio was launched 31 January 2011.

This document refers to the 'Model Unit Trust Portfolio' only. Portfolio fund allocations are not rebalanced automatically. Client Portfolios may have different fund allocations and, therefore, individual investment experience will vary. This document measures performance against the ARC Sterling Equity Risk Private Client Index (PCI) benchmark. This is an external, independent benchmark constructed from a representative group of investment solutions.

Cumulative performance to 30 September 2025

	3 months	6 months	1 year	3 years	5 years
Adventurous Portfolio	7.31%	12.68%	14.34%	44.72%	62.39%
ARC Sterling Equity Risk PCI	6.20%	10.68%	9.29%	31.14%	38.76%

Past performance is not indicative of future performance. Adventurous Portfolio performance is based on a composite calculation following the introduction of a new unit class in November 2024. See the first page for details of how we calculated these figures.

Commentary

The model Portfolio delivered a strong positive return in the third quarter, aided by sterling depreciation, which boosted unhedged overseas equity performance. Growth stocks outperformed value, supported by resilient earnings and ongoing optimism around technology and AI-related sectors. Emerging markets led regional gains, helped by improving trade dynamics and renewed risk appetite, while US equities also advanced strongly, particularly mega-cap technology names.

Source: FE fundinfo. Fund performance data to 30 September 2025. Given performance is based on a composite calculation following the introduction of a new unit class in November 2024. See the first page for details of how we calculated these figures. All figures are percentage growth on a bid-to-bid basis for accumulation units, income reinvested and in fund currency. Please be aware that past performance is not indicative of future performance. The price of units and the income from them may go down as well as up. You may not get back as much as you invested.

How each fund contributed to overall performance

All funds contributed positively, with the Global Growth fund and Global Value fund leading returns, reflecting continued global equity momentum.

The chart below shows how each fund has contributed to the overall performance of the Portfolio in the quarter. Please note that these values represent their target weights on each day in the period and as a result, values may not equal the total return.

Market performance

- ◆ Global equities rallied throughout the quarter, helped by AI-related strength and strong earnings.
- ◆ The overall US market was pushed forward by the technology and energy sectors.
- ◆ The UK market made gains as a weak pound benefited companies with international earnings.
- ◆ Japanese and emerging markets also saw strength in the period.
- ◆ Bond markets were mixed as speculation over future inflation and interest rates continued.
- ◆ Gold and silver rose to all-time highs.

Historic fund performance data and history of the underlying fund allocation for each of the Portfolios is available from your St. James's Place Partner.

- ◆ The Portfolio fund split shown overleaf applies to investments made from 19 August 2024. Some funds within your Portfolio will perform better than others so, over time, those funds will make up a larger proportion of your investments. Consequently, the weighted average yield and average fund charges on your investments will also fluctuate over time. The Portfolio fund allocation will not be rebalanced automatically. You should review your investments regularly to ensure that the balance of risks remains appropriate to your circumstances. Your St. James's Place Partner will help you to do this.
- ◆ Equities do not provide the security of capital characteristic of a deposit with a bank or building society.
- ◆ The prices of funds and the income from them may go down as well as up. You may not get back the amount invested.
- ◆ All data is quoted as at 30 September 2025.
- ◆ This Portfolio has been rated as upper-medium risk. The St. James's Place 'A guide to understanding the balance between risk and reward including the St. James's Place funds, funds of funds and Portfolios' explains investment risk in detail and is available from your St. James's Place Partner.
